BE FOLKSY AT THE FOLK FESTIVAL

Shelton State's Historical Folk Festival will be Wednesday, April 7, in the auditorium for the entire day, 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. If you don't have class Wednesday, it's worth a trip to Shelton to see what's going on.

By the way, the videotaping of "Recollections of Leo Sumner and Victor Poole" is a special treat. Several of us made a trip to Moundville last week and spent a few fun hours in the Poole home videotaping these two men who have meant so much to the college.

And what they did say! Many of their childhood experiences, World War II and the Korean War, their families are all included in their memories. This tape is a wonderful thing for the archives of the school, and Bruce Bizocco does a magnificent job of helping them relate their experiences.

If you would like to see the tape yourself, come to the auditorium Wednesday, 4 p.m., for a special showing. There will be a small reception afterwards honoring the two men. All of their friends, family, and faculty and students at Shelton State Community College are invited.

ATTENTION: ENGINEERING MATH AND CHEMISTRY STUDENTS

You are invited to a career fair at the University of Alabama on Thursday, April 8, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. on the second floor of Ferguson center. FIFTY EMPLOYERS FROM AROUND THE COUNTY ARE SENDING REPRESENTATIVES TO THE EVENT. FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT EVELYN METEE IN THE COUNSELING CENTER.

RESULTS OF MATH TOURNAMENT ANNOUNCED

The math team from Central High School in Tuscaloosa finished fifth in the competition last week at the high school math tournament at Shelton. Grissom High School finished first in the team competition. Second place went to Randolph High School and West Point High School was third. Fourth place in the overall competition went to Vestavia Hills High School.

This is the second year Shelton State has sponsored this tournament under the leadership of faculty instructor Camille Cochrane.

PTK WILL SELECT NEW MEMBERS

Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honorary, is now accepting application for new members for the spring initiation, Friday, April 16, at 7 p.m.

If you meet the required criteria and are willing to actively participate in PTK's projects and activities, please fill out an application immediately. Ask for an application at the circulation desk in the library.

ONCE AGAIN - CREATIVE DRAMATICS FOR STUDENTS

Shelton State is now offering a second sequence of activities in the field of creative dramatics for young people. A preparation for the stage workshop will be held April 12 and will continue through May 6. The series will culminate in a full-scale production, in cooperation with the Punch and Judy Players, of the play "Winnie the Pooh," directed by Susan Brown.

Tuition for the workshop is $50 per child. Registration will be on April 8 and 9, 3:30-5:30 p.m., in Dean Umphrey's office.

The workshop will be divided into three levels:
Level I (ages 7-10) 3:30-4:15 p.m. Monday-Wednesday
Level II (ages 11-14) 4:30 - 5:15 p.m. Monday - Wednesday
Level III (ages 15-18) 3:30-4:15 p.m. Tuesday-Thursday

ARTHUR HOWINGTON, DEAN OF INSTRUCTION AT SHELTON STATE, WAS EMCEE LAST WEEK AT AKRON HIGH SCHOOL'S BEAUTY WALK. BESSIE GERMAN AND JUDY BARKER FROM SHELTON WERE TWO OF THE JUDGES.

DON'T FORGET TO SUPPORT SHELTON STATE'S SOFTBALL TEAM!! The women play away this week, Auburn (Tuesday) and North Alabama (Friday).

CHAIR CANING OFFERED AT SHELTON

Chair caning will now be offered at Shelton State through continuing education. Instructor for the course is Buddy Gray who has been chair caning since 1969 and has received awards and appeared in numerous antique shows. Mr. Gray has also been featured in the Washington Post for his craft.

Registration for the course will be Thursday, April 8, in room 70 at Shelton State. Classes will begin on April 19 and continue for the next five weeks Monday nights from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m.

Gray will focus on three types of caning: hard caning; log-cabin caning; rush caning.

Tuition for the course is $25 plus the cost of your materials. The enrollment is limited so anyone interested in the course should sign up immediately. For more information, contact Margaret Hinton.

NEWS AROUND SHELTON STATE

If you didn't see Tennessee William's "Sweet Bird of Youth" this week-end, you missed a real treat. The performances by the Community Players this year have been nothing short of terrific. Paul Looney, as well as everyone associated with the production, has done a wonderful job. We are looking forward now to next year's offering. Everyone attending the career development day last week received much benefit from it. One of the participants practiced the interviewing skills she had learned at a real interview later that day. By the way, she got the job. Leska Graves (Gayfers), John Lasko (Parisian), Jim McGriff (Alabama Power), Helena Bain (University of Alabama) along with Shelton's Judy Barker did a great job of speaking to the students. The icing on the cake though was the job Wynora Freeman, Bessie German, and Ruby Miller did in videotaping the students in job interview situation. Wynora has a real talent for doing this sort of thing..... By the way, this is the week of the Easter Bunny. Hope he leaves all of you many jelly beans!!!
